Each month, we shop around and share our favorite finds with Milwaukee Home & Fine Living readers. For May, we discovered charming spreaders repurposed as herb garden markers, a beehive that offers your plants a refreshing drink, a book filled with glamorous design ideas, lamps that do double duty as sculpture, and a streamlined, contemporary massage chair.

1 VINTAGE SILVER GARDEN MARKERS Antique silver-plated spreaders are repurposed, polished and hand-stamped to identify your favorite herbs: oregano, thyme, rosemary, sage and basil. Practical, reuseable and charming for garden or sill. Only $49 for a set of five from www.napastyle.com.

2 BEEHIVE WATERING CAN Your flowers might even be a little jealous of the rich copper finish on this whimsical watering can. Available for $77.75 at The Garden Room, 2107 E. Capitol Drive, Shorewood. www.gardenroomonline.com.

3 NANCY CORZINE: GLAMOUR AT HOME Learn how to add a touch of the celebrated interior designer's sophisticated Old-Hollywood style into any setting, with suggestions for selecting furnishings, textiles and more. Available for $50 at Barnes & Noble. www.bn.com.

4 MODE FLOOR AND TABLE LAMPS These cast-bronze lamps from Baker's Pangani collection look like they were plucked from a Dali painting. Available for $1,939-$2,639 at Haven Interiors, 1457 N. Farwell Avenue. www.haveninteriorsltd.com.

5 PANASONIC EP-MS40 MASSAGE CHAIR This stylish massage chair offers a low-profile, contemporary design, with a foot massage ottoman that folds seamlessly under the seating area, and it can fit into any home décor. Choose from avocado green (shown) or latte. Available for preorder for $2,499.99 at Brookstone, 2500 N. Mayfair Road, Wauwatosa. www.brookstone.com.
